

Social Interaction

Assessment Task Number 5

- 1) What is Social Interaction?
- 2) Differentiate face to face conversations and remote conversations.
- 3) How Facebook changing our social lives?
- 4) What is an online social media conversation?
- 5) What happens in social media conversations?

ANSWER

1. A social interaction is an exchange between two or more individuals and is a building block of society. The most common forms of social interaction are exchange, competition, conflict, cooperation and accommodation.
2. Face to face means your expression matters and your appearance. You can show how you are feeling so therefore a smile is necessary. Interactions can be seen, and you can physically demonstrate or show something. While the remote conversation are all about tone of voice. The one you are talking don't know if you are actually smiling. Certainly other emotions can be shown in the voice by terse sentences. Clarification must be shown by instruction as you cannot demonstrate it face to face.
3. There are positive and negative changes that Facebook give to us the positive is that the facebook enhances people's ability to connect with others and form positive relationships with peers. We communicate to our family and friends through Facebook specially when our love ones are far from us. Facebook make the LDR more stronger because they can communicate with each other using it. The negative part is that most of the people are addicted using it, they didn't know that Facebook eat too much time of their life. They don't have time to bond with the people around them. They do not notice that facebook are already eating them.
4. Online social media conversation may refer to any kind of communication over the Internet that offers a real-time transmission of text messages from sender to receiver. Online chat includes web-based applications that allow communication.
5. Sharing conversation informations, idea and feelings with other people using internet.